

*Mother! When around your child
you clasp your arms in love,
And when grateful joy
you raise your eyes to God above
Think of the negro-mother,
when her child is torn away*

Sold for a little slave oh then, for that poor mother pray!

This poem was handwritten in the center of a cradle quilt which raised $5 at the 1836 Boston Ladies' Anti-Slavery Fair.

Your gift in support of the North Star UGRR Museum
will be greatly appreciated.

This replica of Lydia Maria Child's 1836 Cradle Quilt created by Linda Harwood is a new exhibit at the North Star Underground Railroad Museum. The original is in the Historic New England Collection.

NORTH COUNTRY UNDERGROUND RAILROAD HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION